Dear General Price:

I have called Leontyne's New York office to inquire into the possibility that she might be interested in a visiting professorship here at the University of Michigan School of Music for the coming academic year under the auspices of the Martin Luther King/Rosa Parks Program. The secretary informed me that her schedule is now fairly booked for three years. Nonetheless, our request is to merely find out if there is any possibility during the coming year, that Leontyne would be able to spend two weeks here to interact with students and others within our discipline. Please let me know before June 20th whether or not there is a possibility that she can be with us during this year, and if not, how soon it might be possible for such an arrangement to be effected. We anxiously look forward to the possibility that our students may be exposed to her magnetic personality and accumulated knowledge on the art of vocal performance.

I await your response.

Sincerely,

Willis C. Patterson
